It is claimed by the officers of the Bank of Commerce that Henry C.
Gans, the deceased cashier of that institution, was short in his cash over $1,900, and the bank is preparing to bring suit against the American Surety Company, which stood as indemnity against losses to the bank for the late cashier, unless the company settles the amount within the next few days.

We suppose, as a matter of course, an appeal will be taken and the case kept

Mrs. J. K. Shackelford, who was run received internal injuries which resulted in his death. He was the youngest son of his parents and was declining years.

The Forum for September will contain a political essay on "Money Interests in Political Affairs," by E. L.
Godkin, editor New York Evening Post, in which Mr. Godkin traces to the growth of protection the enormous and alarming increase of money in politics, which he regards as the most important political factor of our time. In the same number Senator John T. Morgan, of Alabama, replies to Senator Chandler's recent article on "The Federal Control of Elections." Other articles in this number will be "The Training of Teachers," by President G. Stanley Hall, of Clark University; "The Christianity of the Future," by Prof.
John S. Blackie, of Edinburgh, Scotland; "The Latest Astronomical News," by Prof. Charles A. Young, of Princeton; "Protection Against Tonadoes," by Lieut. John P. Finley; as well as articles by Simon Sterne, Edward Everett Hale, James R. Murdock, M. J. Savage, and Alice E.
Ives.

Congressman Ellis is coming home from Washington this week for the first time this year. This district has never had a more faithful representative in Congress than Capt. Ellis. Although an announced candidate has been canvassing the district for months, he has refused to leave his post of duty to look after his own interests, and now for the first time since December will take advantage of a lull in legislation to come home and talk to his constituents. Capt.
Ellis will make a few speeches before his return, one of which will probably be in this city, although there is no opposition to him of any consequence in this county. The district primary will be held September 27.

Capt. Smith Cook, late doorkeeper of the House, is pretty apt to occupy a similar position with the Con-Con.
He is not only a staunch Democrat, but is the biggest man in Kentucky, being 7 feet high and weighing 260 pounds. He is only 33 years of age and unlike most giants is handsome of feature and symmetrical of figure. Capt. Cook is opposed by two or three gentlemen, but it is safe to name the Shelby giant as an easy winner.

The Kentucky State Union, the official organ of the Farmers' Alliance, has this to say of Capt. Ellis:

"We are very much gratified to see that the Henderson county Union has endorsed Congressman Ellis; he has made us a faithful servant and should be endorsed. When one of our officers stands by us let us endorse him."

Elizabeth Stuart Phelps' article in the August number of the Forum on "The Devil in Modern Life," has caused such demand for that number that a second edition has been issued.

WHEELERS MEET.

The Sebree Meeting Falls to Nominate a Candidate.

Republican Scheme Exposed.

Owenboro Messenger.

SEBREE, Aug. 22.—The meeting of Wheeler's of the Second Congressional district was called to order by W. H.
Hancock, of Webster.

W. N. Short, of McLean, was elected temporary chairman; J. M. Haynes, temporary secretary.

One vote from each magisterial district was the basis of representation.

The following committee on credentials was appointed:

Dan Browning of Webster; G. W.
Gentry of Hopkins; S. H. Myers of Christian; Jno. S. Lambert, of Union; G. T. Baldwin, of Henderson; H. G.
Smith, of Hancock; John Stevens, of McLean; W. P. Miller, of Daviess.

At the afternoon session the committee on credentials reported the following delegates entitled to seats in the meeting:

McLean—W. N. Short, J. A. Stevens, R. M. Ward, R. M. Givens, C.
Noel, Ben Brackett and P. W. Nolen.
Hopkins—G. W. Gentry, W. D.
Slaton, J. W. Wilson, J. Y. Tiford, W. S. Barnett, W. M. Madison, S. J.
Mitchell, W. D. Crow and A. W. Denny.

Henderson—G. T. Baldwin, J. G.
Eakins, Ben Tanner, C. C. Eades, W.
M. Hatchett, R. M. Schaffer, Lewis Remote, J. W. Hicks, A. S. Denton, J. G. Quinn and J. Tapp.

Webster—David Browning, W. D.
Crowley, B. F. Carlisle, W. J. Orr, J.
W. Hancock, Richard Tapp, J. C.
Springfield and T. J. McGraw.

Hancock—Thomas Fallon, Felix Saddler, J. L. Brown.

Union—J. S. Lambert, Peter Able,
Ben Wright, D. P. Duncan, James A.
Wright, C. W. Bondurant, James A.
Turner, P. S. Bennett, Thos. Hayne, Christian—S. H. Myers.

Davies—J. H. Rudy, E. L. Miles, Tom Handley, B. F. Cox, G. W. Holt, James Noel, Henry Ellis, W. M. Purcell, G. W. Sennett, Wm. Potts, Dabney Robinson, Samuel James.

The report was concurred in.

B. F. Cox, of Daviess, was made permanent chairman, Wm. Hatchett, of Henderson, permanent secretary.

The committee on resolutions was as follows: R. M. Givens, A. W. Denny, F. G. Eakins, J. W. Hamilton, F. M. Saddler, Tom Haynes, S. H.
Myers, Samuel James.

The committee, through its chairman, Sam James, recommended the adoption of the resolutions passed at the national alliance meeting at St.
Louis last December, with an additional clause that to more fully carry out these principles in this Congressional district, we will not support any candidate for Congress who will not fully endorse these sentiments and eschew all affiliation with any caucus, delegate or primary election that may be held by the Republican, Democratic or any other parties, or in any way hamper himself in his independent action for the rights and interests of the masses of the people.

By means of their organization the Republicans were almost able to cook the entire proceedings to their own taste, as they had the committee on creatives and gave credentials only to Republicans where it was possible to adopt this step. Thus it was that many of the best Wheelers in attendance were shut out. Hancock county, which was recently swept clean by the Democrats, had a solid Republican delegation, and the same thing would have occurred all the way round if it had been possible to find enough of them to fill the places.

Hon. Jim Rudy took the lead in opposition to the resolution pledging the Alliance to support no man who would accept a party nomination, and pledging the order to vote only for a man who should be endorsed by the convention. He said this was but a Republican scheme to disrupt the Democratic party in the Second Congressional District, and he did not propose to sit by and see the wires set to such work. He loved the Alliance, but he also loved and would be loyal to the Democratic party, and proposed to withdraw from the convention. James Noel and Charles Noel, of McLean county, and Henry Ellis, of Daviess county, followed him in withdrawing.

Thomas Haynes, of Union county, told the convention that their man would be defeated by 3,000 votes in Union county if the resolution was adopted and asked them if they wanted to go into the fight with such odds against them.

Bourland, of Hopkins, and Myers, of Christian, and Hatchett, of Henderson, were also in opposition to the resolution, and their opposition counted in the hot fight that came up, in which the Democrats were finally victorious, killing the resolution and also securing the adjournment of the convention to October 6, at Henderson.

of the rooster was heard telling the approach of daylight. BERGUNDY.

During the epidemic of flux in this county last summer, I had hard work to keep a supply of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy on hand. People often came ten or twelve miles in the night to get a bottle of the Remedy. I have been selling patent medicine for the last ten years and find that it has given better satisfaction in cases of diarrhea and flux, than any other medicine I have ever handled.

J. H. BENHAN, Druggist, Golconda, Poco Co., Ill. Over five hundred bottles of this Remedy were sold in that county during the epidemic.

It was a perfect success and was the only remedy that did cure the worst cases.
Dozens of persons there will certi-fify that it saved their lives. In four Theodore F. Hallam is again a candidate for Congress and will leave no stone unturned to defeat Worth Dickerson for the full term in Carlisle's district. Hallam is a brilliant, companionable fellow, but his habits of dissipation and intemperance are not calculated to command him to the people generally. However, the Sixth district has never attached any great importance to sobriety and moral standing in selecting its party leaders.

Mr. John Carpenter of Goodland, Ind., says: "I tried Chamberlain's Colic, cholera and Diarrhea Remedy, for diarrhea and cramps and pains in the stomach and bowels with the best results. In the worst cases I never had to give more than the third dose to effect a cure. In most cases one dose will do. Besides it's other good qualities are pleasant to the taste and it's good for the skin."

The philosophy of trade forces prices to

No man can buy

DEATHS.

The Rev. H. Smith, a gentleman of many sterling qualities, and a minister of high standing in the old Primitive Baptist church, died of cancer at his home near Cereulian Springs last week. He was a generous, useful man in his community, a good financier, respected by his neighbors, and lived and died an honest man. A man of pronounced characteristics, as a natural consequence, he had some enemies with a host of friends, all of whom, now that his familiar face has gone from our presence forever, will bear willing testimony to his virtues as a citizen, and his moral worth and efficacy as an ambassador of the true and living God. — Cadiz Telephone.

J. W. Pardue, son of Dr. G. M. Pardue, died at his residence three miles east of Clarksville Wednesday, of consumption, at the age of thirty-three years. He was born in Cheatham county and moved with his father to Clarksville soon after the war closed. He was a member of the Christian church and also a member of the order of the Knights of Pythias. He leaves a wife and three children.

Miss Lena Octavia Grissam, daughter of Mrs. Nannie L. Grissam, died Sunday afternoon of spinal disease, after several weeks' illness, in which her sufferings were excruciating. She was in the 18th year of her age and was the idol of her bereaved mother and only brother. Her funeral was preached from the Methodist church at 2 p. m. yesterday and a large procession followed the body to its last resting place.

THE LOSSES AND INSURANCE.

The following is as nearly a complete list of the losses as could be obtained yesterday:

W. W. & J. P. Garnett, corner building next to railroad, general merchandise, stock and building $6,000; insured for $4,500, $3,500 with W. F. Garnett and $1,000 with Long, Winfree & Kelly.

M. G. Miller's building adjoining, worth $1,200, insured for $800. Occupied by postoffice which was saved and by Downer & Jernigan, furniture, loss $800, covered by $1,000 policy with W. F. Garnett.

Third building owned by John Starks, Springfield, Tenn., worth $1,000. Occupied by B. Burrus' grocery and saloon. Insurance not submitted quietly to arrest and was brought to town by his captors, arriving about noon.

He was arraigned before Esq. Davison, who committed him to jail and set his examining trial for next Thursday.

Constable West will get a reward of $200 for the arrest — $150 offered by the State and $50 from the county.

Henderson is a youth who has barely reached manhood and looks like anything else than a desperado. He is to all appearances an ignorant, country boy, of but little intelligence and perhaps hardly realizes the very bad scrape in which he finds himself. He has retained Mr. Jas. Breathitt to defend him.

Fourth room from corner owned by J. R. Waugh and occupied by him as a grocery and saloon. Loss and insurance not learned.

The next building was owned by W. D. Garnett, and was worth $1,000, with no insurance. It was occupied by J. P. Bragg, dry goods, whose loss is covered by a $2,000 policy with E. J. Murphy's agency.

M. G. Miller's building in the rear worth $1,500 was also burned. It was insured for $800. Downer & Jernigan had a stock of implements and hardware in this building worth $1,500; insured for $1,000 with Long, Winfree & Kelly.

To the extreme east M. G. Miller's large brick store house was saved but damaged $200, fully insured.

Exclusive of the losses of Waugh and Burrus the total loss is $15,750 with $10,650 insurance. It is safe to say that the total losses at from $18,000 to $20,000.

There is no clue to the perpetrator of the dastardly crime of arson, though there is no doubt that the fire was started by an incendiary.

Mr. Miller, one of the heaviest losers, was away from home with the excursion to Old Point. He was fortunate in having his property pretty well insured.

The business men burned out are enterprise merchants and will doubtless rebuild and reopen as soon as possible.

Another Heavy Haul.

Mr. J. M. Higgins was victimized by burglars Thursday night, and his loss was one of the heaviest yet reported. The intruders entered his house, rifled it of valuables and departed without disturbing the family.

The next morning Mr. Higgins discovered that he had been relieved of his gold watch worth $165 and about $50 in money, which had been left in his pockets the night before.

Circuit Court will meet next day and will convene the September grand jury, which will have more important work to attend to than any grand jury in Christian county has had to do for a long time. Let us hope that it may be made up of men who will do their duty faithfully and fearlessly.

Bethel Baptist Association held a three days session at Adairville last week. Dr. John D. Clardy was again re-elected Moderator and Rev. J. G. Bow, of Russellville, was chosen clerk to succeed Rev. J. T. Barrow, who has removed from this State. The weather was inclement a part of the time, but the meeting was a pleasant and successful one. The Association will meet next year at Russellville.

The Great Benefit

Which people in a run down state of health derive from Hood's Sarsaparilla, conclusively proves that this medicine "makes the weak strong."

It does not act like a stimulant, imparting fictitious strength, but Hood's Sarsaparilla builds up in a perfectly natural way all the weakened parts, purifies the blood, and assists to healthy action those important organs, the kidneys and liver.

PEMBROKE BURNED.

Seven Buildings Destroyed Sunday Morning.

THE LOSS NEARLY $20,000.

The best portion of the thriving little town of Pembroke was destroyed by an incendiary fire at 4 o'clock Sunday morning.

The fire was started in a shed room in the rear of Burns' grocery, coal oil and tar being used to make sure the success of the firebug's diabolical work.

The fire was discovered by young men sleeping in the stores, but as the town has no means of putting out fire excepting the most primitive methods, but little could be done to check the flames and the whole row of buildings, six or seven in all, were destroyed, with such of their contents as could not be removed in a brief space of time.

The citizens turned out and worked hard and by the hardest saved Miller's brick building and confined the fire to the block where it originated, in which about half of the business houses were located.

All fair ground privileges will be sold Saturday night at R. H. Holland's.

Zack Smith was fined $5 and the trimmings for drunkenness Saturday. The amount was paid and he was sent home.
